National Sailing Hall of Fame Selection Committee

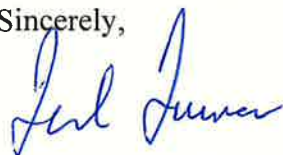

Re: Nomination of Sally Honey

Dear Selection Committee Members,

I applaud your efforts for carefully vetting the many qualified nominees for induction into the Hall of Fame. While I personally know many of the nominees, there is a candidate who has been an advocate for our sport since her youth. Her resume speaks volumes about her passion for sailing; successful dinghy racing, triumphant offshore racing, and more recently, a desire to promote safety in our sport. I feel Sally Honey is a worthy candidate for the Hall of Fame.

When we were awarded Yachtsman and Yachtswoman of the Year in 1973, Sally had successfully competed in a dinghy world full of men, and many times she "beat the boys". Instead of resting on her laurels, she has continued working to protect our sport. She has served on the America's Cup review panel of the Artemis tragedy, US Sailing Safety at Sea Committee, and Chair of the World Sailing Offshore Special Regulations Sub-committee to name just a few examples. In closing, thank you for your time and for protecting the National Sailing Hall of Fame.

Sincerely,
